

NEW HANOVER COUNTY CENTER

COOPERATIVE EXTENSION & ARBORETUM NEWS

*Second Quarter 2020HAVE A QUESTION? ASK AN EXPERT!

While our Plant Clinic is closed for the safety of our clients, you can still get your questions answered! Our field faculty and specialists have expertise in agriculture, food, forestry, community and environmental issues, youth development, family and consumer sciences, and gardening. Questions are answered via email.

ASK YOUR QUESTION HERE"Snap-Ed" & Steps to Health*There are many questions about Covid-19.

Be informed... check out the links below!
What to know about...

- ...grocery shopping.
- ...getting take-out food.
- ...homemade sanitizers and how to make it.
- ...washing your hands.

4-H Happenings4-H Summer Fun Camps are on the Way!!!

We hope we will have returned to normal by the summer when we plan to offer 6 local summer fun camps.

Register below for as many as you want.

Registrations and payments are through Eventbrite, but be sure to finalize your registration by enrolling in 4-H through 4-H Online!!

Click here to learn about our summer fun camps!!

The week-long, overnight camp at Betsy-Jeff Penn has been cancelled.

Register for Summer Camps Here

4-H has many free, fun things to do with your kids! Check them out!!

Click here for links!

Meet Our Folks!

Take a moment to meet the people that make us great!

Each quarter we will feature someone from the Cooperative Extension Advisory Council, a staff member and a wonderful volunteer!

Shirley Melito
Cooperative Extension
Advisory Council

FOR FULL BIO

Marge Porrazzo
Morning Staff Receptionist

FOR FULL BIO

Chuck Dierling
Volunteer
Grounds Group Lead

FOR FULL BIO

Horticulture & Master Gardeners

NC STATE
Extension Master Gardener

FROM THE DIRECTOR

All in good fun, but seriously, "Thank a Farmer!"

This Spring of 2020 pandemic is certainly a reminder to think about the things we typically take for granted. Shaking a hand, giving a hug, fully stocked shelves of toilet paper; what a jolting disruption our new temporary normal is. To lighten the mood...

FOR DIRECTOR'S ARTICLE

Attracting Beneficial Insects

When most people think about insects they immediately think that they are pests. What a lot of people do not know is that not all insects are pests. In fact, many of them can be used to pollinate our flowers, and reduce the population of insects that are harmful to plants.

FOR FULL ARTICLE

Therapeutic Horticulture - Ability Garden

An Ability Garden Update!

Like the rest of the community, the Ability Garden is feeling the effects of COVID-19. However, even in the midst of the current uncertainty we have some wonderful things to share.

READ MORE

Family & Consumer Science

Eating Well at Home Fast, Easy, Tasty Bowls

Deb Chappell our Family & Consumer Sciences Program Coordinator offers a couple fast, easy and tasty recipe ideas that will get you through this tough time and beyond.

For full article & recipes

"Friends" of the Arboretum

New Friends' President Sends Greetings

Hello All! It has been a most interesting start to our spring season, hasn't it? Our community, our state, our country and the world has been turned upside down and inside out...

For full article

Read more New Hanover County Cooperative Extension news »

Register here to receive news feeds about happenings at the Cooperative Extension and the Arboretum»

NC State University and N.C. A&T State University work in tandem, along with federal, state and local governments, to form a strategic partnership called N.C. Cooperative Extension.